A Major Breakthrough In Communication

The CommunicationWheel® represents a major breakthrough in communication using psychological Type. Based on over 25 years of research and field testing, this powerful system gives you a competitive advantage with clients. Not only is this an easier way to explain how type affects communication, but you can help them identify potential communication problems before they become costly mistakes. You will also be able to provide an immediate profile of a group or team to help them understand how to deal with communication problems.

Topics Include

- The CommunicationWheel System
- Languages, Dialects and Styles
- Advanced Communication
- Model for a Two-Hour CommunicationWheel Seminar
- Team Applications
- Leadership Development
- Coaching Applications
- Impact of Stress and Type Development on Communication
